Chateau Paradis

Coteaux d'Aix En Provence, Provence

The composition of the Château Paradis soil consists of chalky slopes, clay sand and many stones, enabling the development of deep root-stalks for our vines. Without suffering from the summer drought, the vines bloom harmoniously in the Provence sunshine providing our wine with freshness and finesse. To ensure that the wines reflect a perfect expression of harmony with nature, Chateau Paradis opted for an Organic Agriculture without chemicals, thereby respecting our environment.

“ It is in the art of blending, however, that our wines find their elegance. The power of the Cabernet Sauvignon mixes effortlessly with the fruitiness of the Grenache and the spicy aromas of the Syrah ; the roundness of the Grenache Blanc enhances the aromatic complexity of the Sauvignon Blanc. Reaching and maintaining our goals requires dedicated attention that only passion can bring. It is that passion that motivates our winemaker and Michel Tardieu, who both work earnestly so our wines reflect the magical inheritance of our soil. “Our new gravity cellar allows us to minimize pump use which facilitates our wine’s potential.”
